Commencing next week, it is the intention to run a regular passenger train, which will take up and down the mail.

STILL THEY COME.

The following reached here by last mail and goes far to prove the importance of circulating reliable information respecting our district:—

THE TIMES, Prince Albert.

DEAR SIR.—Much interest in your country has been excited here by the circulation of a few copies of your paper dated May 9th. Quite a number of our people hope to start for your country this fall. If you have any pamphlets, circulars or maps referring to your part of the N.W.T., please send me a few, in care of Col. Rhodes. I would very much like to have a sample of growing grain, if not too much trouble.

THE DISTRICT PAMPHLET

The District Pamphlet is attracting attention.

A pamphlet entitled "Prince Albert and the North Saskatchewan, a Guide to the Fertile Belt now Being Opened up by Railway from Regina to Prince Albert the Central City and Capital of Saskatchewan," is being issued by the Lorne Agricultural Society, largely through the instrumentality of Mr. J. F. Betts, M.L.A. The pamphlet, which contains a map of the district, has a large amount of information in regard to the eastern portion of the provincial territory of Saskatchewan, including an excellent paper by Mr. C. Blair.—Free Press.

A pamphlet entitled "Prince Albert and the North Saskatchewan," has recently been published under the authority of the Lorne Agricultural Society, Prince Albert. The book has about 75 pages and gives a lot of information in condensed form about this important district; also a map of the section of country tributary to the Prince Albert land office. Copies of the pamphlet can be had on application to J. F. Betts, M.L.A., Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.—Commercial.

IT STILL EXISTS.

A number of our interested citizens looked forward, with some considerable anxiety, to the last annual meeting of our town's only joint stock company. For the past few weeks and pending the annual report, few, if any, transactions in its stock had been noted. It is rumored, however, that the last year's statement was of so gratifying a nature, that several holders were prevailed upon to immediately unload, and that a gentleman who is reported as having for a number of years contributed laborious articles for magazines on several continents, is now principal owner of the stock. The only other important feature of the gathering, thus far made public, is that the directorate has been reduced to three; thus the multitude of stock holders, directors, etc., of a few months ago have passed away. In referring to these changes when the next general meeting day comes around, the managing editor will no doubt with solemn voice remark, officiis Deu, et disjunctur.

OUR OWN DISTRICT.

Following the system of writing up the country by electoral divisions, adopted at the last meeting of the Lieut.-Governor and his Advisory Council, the July number of the Western World devotes upwards of three pages of closely printed matter respecting our district and that of Kinistino and Batoche. Prince Albert will certainly be satisfied with the attention she has received in the article, and if every other important centre gets like treatment, the country will soon be convinced of the wisdom of using such mediums for immigration purposes. In this as in every other important movement having for its object the advancement of our country, Mr. Mair is found in the front rank, and our citizens will be grateful for the valuable article he has furnished. By it much has been done towards establishing Saskatchewan's valuable position as a field for settlement. The Western World has a guaranteed monthly circulation of ten thousand copies. Our Town Council might reasonably use it, as a medium for writing up the town and displaying some of its more important buildings. Legitimate advertising attracts capital, which if once started will continue to find its way. But our Town Council must soon move, or the channel will be long in opening.

We publish, this week, the first explanation from the School Board respecting their action in connection with the purchase of High School books. Though late in the day, Mr. Johnson is to be congratulated on coming to the rescue of his colleagues. The public were led to believe, from "Chorazin's" letter, that wrong had been done. Street talk and the statement showing the two tenders from Jardine & Co. certainly justified them in their belief. Now Mr. Johnson, with no small amount of skill, undertakes to set everything straight; but those who have preserved a copy of "Chorazin's" letter will hardly judge him as successful. In it is contained a list of five books said to have been required by the Board. Jardine & Co.'s figures are attached, and it was claimed that E. J. Cann's tender was—for these books—the lowest by $16 55. This statement is claimed by Mr. Johnson to be false. With that we have nothing, at present, to do; certainly he has failed to prove it as such. The chairman says the books of the Board are now open for inspection. He can hardly expect that every individual ratepayer will examine them. Certainly we shall use the privilege, and will not hesitate to publish any information they may contain in connection with this nasty question. The chairman would have dealt more fairly by his Board, the public and the competitors had he simply published, in detail, the two tenders as received for the books required. "Chorazin" has shown a remarkable difference in Jardine & Co.'s first and second tenders, has insinuated the cause of the difference, has asked the Board to explain, and still his statements remain uncontradicted and virtually without a reply.

The power of the press is again demonstrated. The railway company have accepted our advice, and located their station on the McKenzie estate. No injury is done anyone by the location, and seven-eighths of our population are accommodated.

We have no desire to infringe on the territory of our esteemed River street friend, but the financial statement and other reports presented by him to his directors on Friday last would make capital reading matter; besides it is useful for live companies to publish such statements.

We understand that Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Moose Jaw, has left the Territories, and in consequence has resigned his position as a member of the Board of Education. Saskatchewan has no representative on the Board, and should not be lost sight of in filling the present vacancy.

Our regular editions find their way into the families of all classes. The one published on May 9th last was quietly gotten up in the usual way, and started off on its hunt for readers without any blowing of trumpets or outside assistance, but got there all the same. Read the important Nebraska letter in another column.

The Government was wrong. The question is settled. D. J. W. left the Crown Timber office for the sole purpose of relieving Canada's poor struggling farmers. The official cheque, however, continued to materialize for several years after he had departed for other climes, when it suddenly ceased to develop itself. Therefore, Sir John's trade policy has proven a failure. Sad, isn't it?

THOSE TENDERS.

To the Editor of the Times.

SIR,—Will you allow me a short space in your paper in reply to a letter published a couple of weeks ago.

In your issue of July 25th you publish a letter signed by "Chorazin," who made a most unwarranted attack on the School Board of District No. 3, which I as chairman feel it my duty to correct.

It is a very easy matter to write letters for publication condemnatory of the actions of those who occupy public positions, but it is not honorable to do so when the writer has to falsify statements to gain public sympathy.

Now, in the case in point, I say that some of "Chorazin's" statements are utterly false, in proof of which I submit the following figures and explanations, and as I do not intend to continue a controversy on this subject, I wish those who desire to have my statements verified to call on the secretary of the board, who has instructions to show interested parties all communications referring to the case.

It may not be generally known that in establishing a High School the Board of Education at Regina require the district to furnish certain books for the use of the school.

In this instance the Board procured the list and handed copies of the same to Jardine & Co., and E. J. Cann for prices, with the following results:—Jardine & Co., $221 76; E. J. Cann, $247 25. With this difference, that there is to be added to Jardine & Co.'s tender price of one book $2 25 quoted by Cann; also difference between cloth and paper binding on another publication amounting to $6 40, which added to Jardine & Co.'s tender would still leave a difference in favor of Jardine & Co. of $16 84 instead of $16 55 in favor of Cann, as stated by "Chorazin." The Board at this time, on reliable information, found it was not necessary to purchase the whole of the books immediately in order to secure the Government grant, and decided to purchase this year only those absolutely necessary, a list of which was furnished by the Inspector of Schools and the High School teacher, copies of which was again handed to the gentlemen who had before tendered with the following result:—

E. J. Cann.....$125 75
Jardine & Co.....123 80

Balance in favor of Jardine & Co. $1 95.

As I think I have proved the statements of "Chorazin" are incorrect, I consider a reply to the questions unnecessary further than to say the Board has implicit confidence in their secretary, and further, if the word final was used in asking for tender, it was without the instructions of the Board.

J. L. JOHNSON.

HARD FACTS

TOLD BY GILPHE.

A reliable history of our district is being circulated throughout Ontario by Immigration Agent Miller. The following interview, published in the Guelph Mercury, and Mr. Miller's report to the local committee, must satisfy those who doubted the wisdom of the committee's advice that the right man was chosen. Mr. Miller is a practical farmer, has a thorough knowledge of our country's resources, and is well and favorably known in three of the best counties in Ontario.

IMMIGRATION AGENT MILLER.

Mr. William Miller, a well-known Scotch farmer from Prince Albert, is visiting Ontario with a view of more fully introducing the advantages of the quarter of the Dominion to this part of Canada. He was for a few days this week the guest of Mr. W. H. Peterson, a settler, three of whose sons are in the Northwest—two being in the Prince Albert section. Mr. Clayton Peterson, it will be remembered, went to this district last summer with cattle from Mr. Scott's celebrated herd and from other herds, and is prospering on his farm near the town.

Mr. Miller is a large property holder, acquired entirely by his own industry in a comparatively few years, having gone from the county of Huron, where his relatives principally live, about 17 years ago, and is an example of what can be achieved by other settlers in that progressive district with even greater ease and in a shorter period. There are now railroads reaching the country which were lacking formerly when he emigrated and sources of other advantages which accompany civilization. He has given us many interesting facts which deserve consideration by those interested in seeking new homes, and we certainly think it folly for any Ontario man thinking of going to the neighboring States when our own Dominion possesses the advantages which such a district as the Saskatchewan affords to every one. We believe Mr. Miller's statistics reliable.

Prince Albert was in 1873 a Presbyterian mission, a Hudson Bay trading post, with a few so-called shanties. Now it has many general stores, hardware establishments, butcher and baker shops, shoemakers, saddlers, several hotels and a flouring mill belonging to the H. B. Co., but meeting most of the flour for their northern posts. There is a first rate opening for a grain mill at Prince Albert, the nearest one being twelve miles away. There are three saw mills, the largest one owned by Moore & Macdougall has a 75 horse power engine, a 60 inch circular saw and a 40 inch one, shingle machine, lath saws and a first class planing mill. The summer's cut will be about two and a half million feet. They employ forty men. The other mills will cut from 3,000 to 5,000 feet per day.

SCHOOLS.—There are three Protestant Public schools, a High School, two Separate schools, and a convent. The Government is very liberal for educational purposes and shows the intelligence and wisdom of its plans in this most important factor in securing a country's future well being.

CHURCHES.—There are four churches—Presbyterian, Methodist, English and Roman Catholic.

RESIDENCES.—A large number of brick and frame substantial structures.

THE COUNTRY'S ADVANTAGES.

WATER.—Two large navigable rivers, the North and South Saskatchewan, running nearly parallel for about 150 miles and navigable for nearly 1,200 miles with steamboats and other craft. The country is well supplied with small creeks and lakes in many parts and good water produced at small depths.

TIMBER.—Plentiful. This is what is not found in the Manitoba region. The kind of the saw mills mentioned proves conclusively that the Saskatchewan District is a timbered country. North of the North Saskatchewan is a large belt of timber, including pine, poplar, tamarac, spruce and white birch.

SOIL AND GRAIN.—Rich alluvial soil, varying in quality. There is heavy clay loam, sandy loam, and a sandy soil, which yields from thirty to forty bushels per acre of the finest wheat grown, unsurpassed by any country in the world. The wheat of Prince Albert captured the bronze medal at the Paris exhibition in 1887. It is admittedly a better wheat than that grown in the southern parts of the Northwest. Oats, barley, and peas grown with wheat the staple crops of the country, and of the most abundant yield.

CLIMATE.—Exceedingly healthy. In winter, clear cold weather. The cold is not felt to the same extent as in a damp climate, and as a general thing little or no wind when the glass is low. Snow depth generally from twelve to eighteen inches. A good deal of rain in the latter part of May, June and July.

NO BLIZZARDS AND CYCLONES.—These prevail only far to the south, where the country is flat, offering no wind break, whilst from the position of the Saskatchewan country, with its rolling undulating surface land, there is nothing to fear from these occasional southern visitors.

NO GRASSHOPPERS OR GOPIERS.—This country is happily a stranger to these pests, which, as respects the latter in the southern part, have been and are sources of much destruction and require vigilant extermination to be rid of them.

VEGETABLES.—Potatoes, turnips, man-golds, carrots and parsnips grow remarkably well. Two pound potatoes are very common, and up to even four pounds, and all sound to the heart. Cabbages and cauliflower grow to a large size. Mr. Miller has cultivated them measuring 12 and 14 inches in diameter. Onions, such as red Wethersfield and yellow Danvers, give an excellent yield. Shallots and onion sets do well.

WILD AND SMALL FRUIT.—Strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries, black currants, Saskatchewan blueberries, high and low bush cranberries. Apples and other fruits have not yet been thoroughly tested, but it is believed the hardier varieties can be successfully grown.

STOCK RAISING.—Mixed farming should be the rule for perfect success. Abundant pasture in summer and plenty of hay can be secured for winter consumption. Cattle are as fat in the fall as stall fed cattle elsewhere in older provinces. Butchers in Prince Albert were killing three year-olds this spring from 1,200 to 1,500 pounds weight. Mr. Miller considers his cattle at three years old are one year ahead in growth of any cattle elsewhere in the Dominion. Their hay and grass is peculiarly nutritious and beef producing. The Shorthorns are most common but Herefords should succeed equally in that country. For dairy purposes Holsteins are favorably thought of. The country affords fine openings for enterprise as respects stock raising, and outside cattle raisers should direct their attention to this great opening for success.

SHEEP.—Mr. James McArthur, Prince Albert, started with a flock of 300 Merinos a few years ago. He has now 1,000, and sold a great many besides. The second year he sold 70 to one man. He used Southdown rams and has now a fair sized flock. Costs about 50 cents a head to winter them, and then summer feed costs nothing. Some very good Shropshire Downs and Lesters are owned by settlers. Railway facilities will now increase these important branches of cattle and sheep farming in this district.

RAILWAY FACILITIES.—The Q. & A. Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Railway connects with the Canadian Pacific at Regina, and will be completed this fall to Prince Albert 250 miles distant. Any one from Ontario can transport a car load of cattle, stock, implements and goods anywhere via the C.P.R. and land them at Prince Albert without changing cars, as the latter road is practically run in connection with the former. The great future market will be Europe by the H.B. route. Prince Albert is 600 miles from Churchill on the Hudson Bay, and nearer Liverpool than Ontario, and 150 miles nearer than Winnipeg. For the Territories this route would be more advantageous than by way of Montreal to ship cattle to the British markets. They would not be one half the time on the way, with a cooler route. For 200 years the H.B. Co.'s wooden vessels have navigated the Hudson Bay straits successfully and ocean steamers can surely perform this service with immense advantage and superiority.

HOMESTEAD LAWS.—Every male British subject over 18 years old can secure 160 acres for a homestead by paying $10 for entry and living on it for six months each year for three years, and 160 acres of pre-emption at $2 per acre—one fourth down, balance in three equal yearly instalments. There is a five years' system; break five acres first year, crop it and break other ten second year, commence residence the third year, and reside and cultivate the last three years, six months in each year.

EMIGRATION.—Settlers are desired whatever their resources, so long as they are preserving, industrious and energetic and success will crown their labors. Capitalists cannot do better than direct their attention to the Saskatchewan District. It has 114,000 square miles of fine territory, unsurpassed by, and in Mr. Miller's judgement after seventeen years residence in the centre, superior to any other district of the Northwest, offering varied advantages not possessed by the rest. He will gladly afford any particular information if addressed to Wrexeter P.O., Ont., up to the end of September.

Mr. V. Dickson, who came here a few weeks ago from Wroxbor, Ont., to attend his brother William during the latter's serious illness, left for his Ontario home on Wednesday morning. He had the satisfaction of taking his brother with him, almost entirely recovered. Mr. Dickson made many warm friends while in Prince Albert, who will all be glad to welcome him back at any time.

The pathetic appeal of little Willie to his pa in a late issue of the Saskatchewanian was—to use a mild expression—indescribably sad, and would have brought tears to the eyes of a man on a monument. We apologise to our readers for giving so much free advertising to a disgruntled but beloved contemporary, but this last edition of editorial defection was too utterly sad to escape an obituary notice from us.

There has been during the past week a very noticeable improvement in the state of the crops throughout this district. Several farmers report that owing to the warm weather prevailing of late, harvesting will commence inside of next week. Barley is in a great many instances dead ripe, and oats are nearly as far advanced, while wheat will only be a few days behind. Altogether the prospect is a pleasing one.

On Thursday last, during the ride out of the Police, Sergt. Montgomery met with what may prove to be a fatal accident. In riding after the troop his horse stumbled and fell, both horse and rider coming to the ground heavily. What extent of injury was done is hardly known, as the poor fellow has been unconscious since. Monty is a great favorite in both town and barracks, and his many friends regret to hear of the mishap, but hope to see him pull through his accident in safety.

"A party of young men went to Prince Albert a few weeks ago, having heard that plenty of employment was to be had there. They found their information was unfounded, and are drifting back to town." The above paragraph appears in a late issue of the Battleford Herald. Very strange. At the present time there is a good demand for labor of all kinds in this town and vicinity, and any young men who cannot get work here had better drift back to Battleford to rest, as they must be very tired people, and Battleford affords ample opportunity for enjoying undisturbed rest.

A very marked and appropriate feature connected with the near approach of railway communication is the increase in the number of new comers to town. At present the hotels are taxed to their utmost to accommodate the influx. In olden days when the trail to Troy was the chief avenue for passenger and other traffic, the townspeople knew days beforehand just who was on the mail, and in a great many instances all about them; but time and the railroad has changed old things in this respect.

Mr. Fred White, comptroller N.W.M. Police, arrived in town on Sunday evening last, and left for Battleford on the Wednesday following. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald. Mr. White has not visited Prince Albert since 1884 and was surprised to find such a wonderful improvement in the town. He was highly delighted with the barracks location, which excels in many respects the positions chosen for like posts in other parts of the Territories.
